The outdoor spaces have been designed to make the most of this spectacular setting, with an irregularly shaped swimming pool surrounded by paved areas and wooden decking.

A charming 1960s residence, Property 1768924561 was inspired by the organic architecture of Frank Lloyd Wright and built using local stone and reinforced concrete. Its architecture was conceived to blend naturally with the landscape, allowing guests to feel an integral part of the surrounding nature. The concept of the house is also inspired by the living module of a boat, an idea that is reflected particularly in the carefully designed, refined yet essential interiors.

Inside, abundant natural light and intense shades of blue flood every room, becoming an integral part of the décor and echoing the Mediterranean landscape outside. The original bespoke furniture, designed specifically by the architect, has been preserved, giving the interiors an authentic and distinctive character. The result is a sophisticated yet welcoming atmosphere in which the original spirit of this special family home remains beautifully intact.

Main House (3 Bedrooms):
The main house features three bedrooms (two double bedrooms and a twin room), all overlooking the sea. It features one bedroom with a comfortable queen-size bed, a private bathroom with shower and a small kitchenette, providing everything needed for a pleasant and self-contained stay. Facing the sea, the annex also enjoys beautiful sea views, allowing guests to wake up surrounded by the colours and atmosphere of the Sardinian coast.
